“Drummer of Righteousness”

My piece shows ideas of peace, justice and righteousness drawn on the side of a drum. The drummer and drum represent the drum major instinct. When I hear the phrase “Drum Major Instinct”, I immediately think of a drummer playing the drums even though drum majors typically don’t play the drums. I used the image of a drummer to represent the idea of drum major instinct. To show ideas of peace, justice and righteousness, I used symbols and scenes that represent each one to give an idea of what they actually mean. I attempted to show how anyone could be a “drum major” in and for his school and community by giving examples of what could be done to represent a better society.
